

Open Topic Issue

Historia Crítica, journal of the Faculty of Social Sciences at Universidad de los Andes (Bogotá, Colombia), announces a call for papers for open topic articles that has extended its deadline to March 3, 2024. We invite interested scholars to submit their previously unpublished articles in Spanish, English, or Portuguese, which present the results of historical research, theoretical innovations related to historical interpretations and debates, or historiographical reviews.

Articles must be in Word format and comply with the journal's submission guidelines: a maximum length of 11,000 words (18-22 pages approximately), single-spaced, 12 pt. Times New Roman font, letter-size paper with 3 cm margins. Author information should be submitted in a separate file. Footnotes and bibliographic references must follow the Chicago Manual of Style.

For important rules regarding manuscript submission consult <https://revistas.uniandes.edu.co/index.php/hiscrit/editorial-policy>. Non-compliance with the submission guidelines will lead to the rejection of the article.

Articles should be submitted through the journal's platform (the link will be available during the call for papers period on the journal's website—Submission Guidelines/Submission). Articles sent to Historia Crítica cannot be simultaneously submitted elsewhere or under review for another publication.
